Certification of Origin/Animal Free Component

Products Manufactured by InVitria

Country of Origin: USA
City of Origin: Junction City, KS

InVitria's products are manufactured using a synthetic and animal free gene inserted into an animal component free production host and then extracted and purified using no animal components as raw materials. InVitria's processing equipment has not been in contact with animal components at any point in their life. The equipment used in production is dedicated to InVitria's products and InVitria maintains custody from the synthetic gene to the final product packaged in tamper evident containers. The products are packaged using no animal components in any product contact packaging material. No animal components are used in the materials of construction of product contact packaging materials. InVitria manufactures products that are animal component free to the tertiary level.

In addition, InVitria's products have not been exposed to any critical or highly sensitizing agents such as antibiotics, hormones, or steroids during the manufacturing or packaging process.
